

The image shows a template for a vocabulary card. It consists of a large rectangle divided into two main sections by a vertical dotted line. The left section is a single large blank area. The right section is divided into ten horizontal rectangular flaps of equal height, stacked vertically. Each flap is intended for a student to write a vocabulary word on top and its definition on the inside when folded.

To use this page, student cuts along outside black lines, then folds along middle vertical dotted line. Then student cuts along horizontal lines to make flaps. Student writes vocabulary word on top of each horizontal flap; then writes the associated definition on inside of folded paper (so the definition appears when the flap is lifted).
